

Blood Disorders in Lupus and Lab Tests that Detect them

Lupus Fact Sheet

This article outlines blood disorders associated with lupus. It focuses on thrombosis, thrombocytopenia, leukopenia and anemia. It also looks at other blood test abnormalities, including the ANA test. Finally it discusses tests for detecting kidney disease. The article is valuable for everyone with lupus, as it explains these lab test findings in simple terms.